MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Guild members,

It's spring! I hope this finds each of you well and feeling the sense of renewal that often comes with this change of season.

When can we expect to meet again in person? It isn't likely that restrictions will be lifted until 70/80% of the public have been vaccinated. The provincial plan is for that to happen by the end of September. If all goes well, October would be the earliest we may be able to do so. The Location Committee has found several viable locations for us and are working out the details. Yeah! We can do this!

Save the date! May 31st has been scheduled for our AGM. Details will roll out as plans are put in place.

Our Guild website has successfully migrated (technical word! And likely the wrong one) to quiltthouse.ca which is our new domain with Hosting Nation. This is not a change of our guild name. For those of you who have resisted logging in to the website, this is the time to do it. Don't be shy to ask for help; connect with Robbie T. at website@quiltthouse.ca. The website has gone through some reorganization, check it out. Next month you will be required to log in to the website to access the newsletter.

News for Sew Groups! Use of the Guild Zoom account has been extended to sew groups, with the understanding that this will not conflict with official Guild business. This account is not limited on the time you can book, which is the advantage over using the free account.

- Programs, Workshops or other executive may bump a sew group if there is no other workaround.
- The sew group will designate one person to receive the password and schedule the meetings. The password is not to be shared amongst the group or elsewhere. Reregister if a change is needed.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT CONT'D

- Request the password from our website liaison, who will keep a list.
- Zoom assistance should be requested from our webmaster. Before requesting help, please review “How to Zoom for Users” which is located in the “Members Only” tab, under “Website Help”.
- When scheduling a meeting, the title will include the name of the group and the first name and last initial of the designate. This is for contact purposes.
- Where different sew groups would prefer the same day, sew groups should work out an arrangement between themselves. Please do not book past August, 2021 at this point.

Happy spring everyone!

~ Sandi M.

After the presentation from Island Sewing at a Guild meeting (it seems like forever ago!) I purchased a Brother Scan 'n Cut. The black silhouettes were cut-files that I purchased on Etsy, and the background fabric is an ice dye that I made last summer.

PROGRAM

In February we had two presentations, the first by Rosa Rojas from Spain, who showed us how to do appliqué using the Apliquick tools that she has designed (and which are sold by Cindy Scraba of our guild). Rosa offered us a free Facebook Live presentation initially, but when some of us could not get on due to some technical glitch, she offered us a Zoom repeat. Thank you Rosa!

We would also like to thank Melissa Marginet who presented us with ideas for ‘Getting Your Motor Running’. Melissa’s basic message is to embrace those challenges! She keeps most of her challenge pieces very small, but they vary widely.

On March 17th (7:00 p.m.) we will have another joint Zoom presentation with the Nanaimo Guild and the Modern Quilt Guild. Teresa Wong will present “Japan’s Quilt History: The Story of an American Import”. The three-layered quilt was imported from America to Japan. It was quickly adopted and adapted to become a favourite pastime for an estimated three million quilters in Japan today. Once adopted, Japan took this pastime seriously and systems were quickly built to teach adept and eager sewists how to make masterpieces. By the 1990s, Japanese quilt makers were world renowned for their traditional hand-pieced and hand-quilted quilts. We’ll take a peek inside the Tokyo International Great Quilt Festival and learn how it became the largest attended quilt event in the world. Japan’s journey from importer to trailblazer is a fascinating journey through Japanese history, cultural expectations and the process by which one is deemed a ‘master quilter’ or not. This presentation promises to be another inspiring one.

In June, we are hoping to have a virtual Show and Tell in conjunction with the Nanaimo Guild and the Modern Quilt Guild. If you would like to participate, could you please send me a picture or two of your most notable project during this past year. We hope to put together a slide show and get together via Zoom to share this with the other two guilds. Please send your submissions before May 1st, to darlene.lacharite@lli.ulaval.ca.

Our second addition is not program, but library:

In September, Marlene and Darlene are taking over the library. They are looking for a couple of guild members to man the library desk during the evening meetings. Duties would include packing up the library books at the end of the evening. If you are willing to help out, please contact the management committee.

~ Darlene L. and Marlene W.

A NOTE FROM PROGRAM

Marlene and I would like to give you a bit of insight into the chaos that we call programming these days. When the shut down occurred last year, we had already booked all of our programs for the guild year (the best laid plans...). We first approached our scheduled presenters about doing their programs remotely, but none felt ready for that. And who can blame them? Those who regularly present via Zoom, or Facebook Live, or some other platform, have generally invested in special cameras, lighting, even assistants, etc.

Going remote has been challenging, but it has opened up new possibilities. We can solicit presentations from around the globe, whereas we cannot do that, except on a rare, exceptional basis, when we meet face-to-face. However, many quilt artists who offer programs via Zoom, etc. are still very expensive. We've been able to bear the cost of some by partnering with the Nanaimo Guild and the Modern Quilt Guild for some presentations. This brings the cost down to a more manageable level, but it does not give us the flexibility for timing. The same is true, of course, when we have a presentation from someone in a very different time zone. People are remarkably reluctant to present in the middle of the night their time, so we can have a presentation at our usual Guild meeting time!

We are frequently asked whether we can record a program. Unfortunately, we cannot. The presenter can, if he or she wishes, but we do not have the right to do that. We should also note that presenters choose the platform for their presentations. Most, but not all, have used Zoom. That often means that the number of viewers is limited to 100. Some presenters have Zoom accounts that allow for larger numbers of participants, but their prices reflect that cost.

It has been exciting to bring these programs to you, and we are delighted when you let us know that you enjoy a program. We're trying to help our guild, not just to survive, but to thrive during this very challenging period. Our intentions are good, but please be patient with us; we're still flying by the seat of our pants.

~ Your program team, Darlene L. and Marlene W.

HELP REQUEST

We are asking for your help!

The management committee is looking ahead to next year and our Annual General Meeting which we are aiming to host at the end of May

One of the essential steps in preparing for an AGM is finding lead people for the executive and various committees that keep our Guild so vibrant and interesting. Good organizations need good people to help make the wheels go around! PQHQG is no exception. There are lots of changes in committees coming up for the 2021-22 year and we need your help!

The following committees and roles need your help, enthusiasm and skills:

Workshops

- Co-chair with another Guild member.
- The current committee have plans in place for a couple of fall workshops to ease you into the role.
- It is a team effort, with the fun and support of an active committee.
- Mystery quilt lead as part of the team.

Comfort Quilt Program

- This is our Guild's flagship community outreach program which brings an incredible amount of support & comfort to others from the very young to the elderly in many of our local communities.
- Comfort Quilts would be a good opportunity for a group of friends or a sew group to work together on this program.

Executive

- Sandi M. and myself have been asked if we would stay on for the next term. We have both agreed to do so. Our current Treasurer has agreed to put her name forward. We have a new volunteer for Secretary.
- President, Vice President, Treasurer and Secretary are all elected positions and any member may put their names forward for election.

Vice-President

- A lead-in year as a member of the Management Committee, a terrific way to learn the inner workings of the Guild, and to prepare for the upcoming year as President.

The position descriptions are on the Guild website, in the Members Only section, listed in Guild Business – give them a read or talk to the folks in the current roles.

If you have questions or would be interested in volunteering, please contact Betty K.

Special Orders... #1: This baby quilt was ordered by a great-grandmother. The colours were to be earth tones with a few animals from Northern B.C. worked into the design. She also requested an eagle or eagle feathers as this was a family animal spirit. #2: This great-grandmother has two babies on the way. The second quilt had to have a llama as well as several other animals, an eagle, and at least one rainbow. She requested earth tones for this quilt as well. ~ Gerry G.

The turquoise quilt was one my granddaughter had started but never got around to working on after her initial start of 6 blocks, so for her birthday this month I finished it for her, had it quilted and I did her binding! She was thrilled to have it done even though she had kept insisting she was going to do it! I thought it should be done as turquoise was still her favourite colour! The log cabin was one I had made with scraps but needed binding. The floral sunset was one I had made at the Guild's mystery workshop a year or so ago. Again, it needed binding and I love how Kismet quilted it! The witch panel was a very simple one I made last year but again it was sitting waiting for binding! Feels so good to have them finished! ~ Susan F.

I have been busy completing UFO's this month. The lone pines cut out for the course I gave, finally put together and quilted. The next is a stack of blocks I sewed together and quilted for a Fanny Bay charity quilt. The Christmas wonky trees are from a program in December. The last is an art quilt that started with a photo printed fabric of an Arbutus tree by Paulette Cornish. I hand quilted that one in a big stitch to finish, added three leaves made in a Judy Farrow class long ago and a few orphan improv leftover blocks to finish the top. ~Joyce M.

TO ISLAND SEWING THANKS FOR THE SUPPORT!

When I was contacting the merchants about having to cancel our Guild's 2021 Quilt Show and would be refunding their deposits, Danielle at Island Sewing in Campbell River requested that we keep half of her deposit back ($200) to help our Guild. That was just so kind and generous of her to do, and I feel that she and her store needs to have a shout-out and our support by shopping there as well when we can.

An unquilted top at this point from a pattern called 'Subway Quilt Pattern' from Connecting Threads using fabric bought from Carola's Quilt Shop when she visited our Guild last year for a pop up sale. I totally changed the pattern to cut things in a different way and went from a supply list of 4-1/2 yards of background fabric to 2-1/2 yards. The pattern called for 25 fat quarters and I have enough left over to make another quilt even after using some of the fat quarters for the border. It was a bit tricky getting all those seams matched to make continuous lines without any jogs so not a beginners quilt. ~ DiAnne H. (left)

Another learning curve - "Turtles"- got the fabric and pattern in Hawaii about 5-6 years ago I think. Used the quilting pattern that came with it plus some of my own ideas. Fun project. ~ Susan St. (left)

CQA UPDATE

Recently, CQA has created a new strategic plan for 2021-2024. The importance of inclusivity is front and centre. Over the next while I'd like to share each objective and what that might mean for you and other quilters in Canada. There is content for members but also non-members!

Strategic Objective #1: Communication

To develop plans to improve communication with quilters from all geographic regions of Canada, in all genres of quilting, at all skill levels and inclusive of all peoples of Canada.

Here are some examples:

- Canadian Quilters magazine: <https://canadianquilter.com/cqa-magazine/>. This magazine comes with a CQA membership. We have a copy in our library (when open) and/or you can also purchase a single issue for personal use.
- Blog posts <https://canadianquilter.com/blog/>.
- Free monthly e-newsletter: you can sign up on the website.
- Social media and virtual platforms:
  - ◇ Website: <https://canadianquilter.com/>
  - ◇ Instagram: https://www.instagram.com/canadian\_quilters/
  - ◇ Pinterest: https://www.pinterest.ca/cqaacc/\_created/
  - ◇ Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/canadianquilters/>

Free Row of the Month:

Welcome to the sixth installment of our Row of the Month quilt along. This quilt along is open to all quilters; check out the website for each of the steps created so far!

COMFORT QUILTS

Hello quilters,

Spring is in the air! I'm sure we are all looking forward to the longer daylight hours and hopefully some sunny weather. The dreary covid winter was a great time to sew and I am thankful to all of you who helped with comfort quilts. The requests for quilts continues to grow. I am trying to get enough together for delivery to The Gardens in Qualicum. The last deliveries to Nanaimo hospital were very well received. On the way to the hospital I stopped to deliver to VISCAN. They asked me to thank "the wonderful quilters" for their generosity.

Comfort Quilts is looking for a few good women (or men) to run the program next year. Please let myself or another committee member know if you are interested.
